Spend up to five days using university resources to develop Middle East and Northern Africa (MENA) content for your courses.

- Schedule consultations with area faculty experts
- Enjoy full access to the libraries, museums, archival resources, and collections

Grant includes travel and food reimbursement, book allowance, and library privileges. Those without significant MENA resources at their home institution are strongly encouraged to apply.

REQUIREMENTS

Applicants must identify a specific curriculum development project to be pursued.

Awardees must submit a grant report one month after completing their visit, which includes a brief description of materials collected, and details for the integration of MENA content (at least 25%) into courses taught, or new courses developed. Amount of grant dependent upon funding availability.
